

Just a Little of This & That

By W. E. W.

When Summer Comes
Did you ever spend the winter months perusing the advertisements on underwear for men, knowing that summer would soon arrive and it would be necessary for you to invest as your lighter underthings had given up the job of further service? In those advertisements you were especially interested in the fine-looking specimens of manhood who displayed the particular garment offered—then you bought—then you put them on and looked in the mirror. Ye Gods! What a difference in your appearance when compared with the goods as advertised.

Modern Day Methods
Being staged in the leading role of a near-drowning event is a rather different event than in the days of the old swimmin' hole, when the kid that went down a time or two was yanked from the water and given a good stiff rolling on a barrel. Dragging from the water is no particularly different, but after they get you ashore bells clang, and whistles blow as they rush a pulmotor to your aid in a fire truck followed by an ambulance to carry you to the hospital. It must be rather disconcerting to the poor mortal who revives and hears all those bells ringing and whistles blowing, and one is inclined to agree with that colored man who preferred a train wreck over a boat wreck for, as he stated it, "in a train wreck there you is, but in a boat wreck where is you?"

He Doesn't Smoke
A reader of The News, who evidently doesn't smoke, sends the following with which other readers, except those who do smoke, will be inclined to agree. A viewpoint is often formed against the other fellow's habits, but never against his own.

Editor of The Upland News:
Dear Sir,—In a recent editorial your paper the terrible losses sustained annually by preventable fires was plainly set forth. At the present rate of destruction our forests are certainly doomed unless some drastic measures are enacted by congress that may chill some of us to the bones. The cause of the majority of our forest fires is well known to many of us.

A recent investigation by a magazine editor disclosed the fact that a vast majority of the fires are caused by cigarette stubs thrown away burning. The railroads have been blamed for starting fires by sparks from the locomotives, but a careful investigation over a certain period of time showed that practically all the fires on the railroad right-of-ways were caused by cigarette stubs thrown out of the car windows.

In view of these facts it can be seen that fully 75 per cent of our disastrous fires can be prevented as soon as we really want to prevent them. If our forests and watersheds are worth saving they should be saved at all hazards, but if the cigarette manufacturers are allowed to continue sending fire brands by the million all over the country then we might as well give up, for at the present rate of increase cigarette stubs—girls as well as boys—our forests are doomed in a few years.

All this talk of fire prevention is well meant, and perfectly harmless, but it reminds us of an old granny with her "Johnny, don't" and "Johnny, be careful," until we get the carache and turn away in disgust. The direct effect of nicotine on the brain is to make a person careless instead of careful. That is why a smoker will blow his foul breath in our face and if he was knocked down for the insult, he would not understand what it was for. There is only one thing that will save our grand forest and watersheds from destruction and that is a state law forbidding the sale, manufacture or importation of cigarettes, and if we mean business by our pretended interest in our natural resources that is the first thing we ought to do.

Educating a person to be careful when he is scattering firebrands in a matter of course way, is about as easy as to educate a monkey to stop braying. Our government is spending millions of dollars to save our forests, we are advised to break matches to insure they are out, to put out campfires—but never a word about putting out the cigarette, the cigarette, at home when going on

MAYOR DECREES JUNE 9 TO 14 AS CLEANUP WEEK

ADIOS TIN CAN

Upland to Become Like Unto Spotless Town Next Week. Annual Clean Up Day in Next Week's Program.

Mr. Tin Can, Old Rubbish, General Litter, and all the other things that muss up the landscape, read the following, then weep—it's your funeral and the pallbearers are going to be many for you and yours are going to be piloted to the city dump and there used to fill up a gap in dear old Mother Earth.

Mayor Johnson, the city council and city officials have so decreed, and the order is going to be carried out regardless of your inclination to stay with us and when the week June 9th to 14th is over, Upland will be some relation to Spotless Town and a fit place for June brides to make their future homes.

Generalissimo "Dick" Manley took his pen in hand last night and said he:

"Beginning Monday morning, June 9, the city trucks will pick up all rubbish piled in the alleys and on the curbing. Last year a great many loads were carried to the wash free of charge, and the city looked one hundred per cent better. Lots that are now covered with weeds and rubbish should be cleaned up and the weeds burned off, not only because of the fact that this helps the looks of the city, but also because a lot which is allowed to accumulate waste material is a great fire hazard and may result in loss to other people. If everyone will co-operate with us next week as they have in the past years during clean-up week, we will have no trouble in making this campaign a success."

PAYS $50 FINE FOR CARRYING FLASK

Because E. A. Nigg of Covina took his own liquor along with him when he went to The Sycamores to dine Wednesday night, he paid a $50 fine to the court of Judge W. C. Belden of Cucamonga Friday.

Mr. Nigg is said to have had a small pocket flask of liquor on the floor by his side when J. D. Orendorff of Etiwanda, a special officer, working out of the district attorney's office, espied him and the flask.

Officer Orendorff took Mr. Nigg without causing any disturbance at the hotel.

Six Los Angeles men arrested near the hotel last week by Officer Orendorff, paid $500 in fines in Judge Belden's court, each being fined $100 for possession of intoxicating liquor.

THE AZ-U-LY-KIT TO BE REOPENED

The Az-U-Ly-Kit Cafe is to open in the Hall Building at 292 Second Avenue, Upland, on Thursday of this week, under new management.

Miss Sexauer, who formerly managed the Az-U-Ly-Kit, is still interested in the business, and P. G. Simpson, a partner in the business, is to be the new manager.

Mr. Simpson has been in the cafe business for several years and plans on making the Az-U-Ly-Kit an ideal place to eat.

Miss Sidelia Hast, food specialist and domestic science graduate, is to be chef, and patrons are assured of excellent service.

Camping trip. Unless we are willing to sacrifice our self-indulgences for the welfare of the nation, and until the social conscience is thoroughly awakened, there is little hope for the future of our forests will have to burn and each succeeding year will see an increase of destruction. Future generations a hundred years hence will curse us in our graves for our criminal waste of the nation's wealth.

Without being pessimistic these are the plain facts as we know them, and it is our sincere hope that something can be done to stop this crime against nature.

MANES TRIMMED SAME OLD PRICE

Master barbers of the city conferred last night and commencing this morning new regulations are in effect.

The public objected to the opening of local barber shops at 8 a.m., especially during the summer season, and from now on they will open at 7:30 and close at 6 p.m. Previously they have been opening at 8 a.m. and closing at 7:30 p.m. Saturdays the shops will be open until 10 p.m.

The new price list which went into effect this morning underwent very little change last night at the meeting of the master barbers. The prices now effective are as follows:

Haircut	50c
Straight Bob	50c
Shingle Bob	75c
Shave	25c
Massage	50c
Boncella Massage	$1.00
Olive Oil Shampoo	$1.00

LACK OF BRAKES CAUSES MISHAP

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Kermott doubtless heaved a sigh of relief when they boarded the 10:12 Santa Fe this morning at Upland and found themselves safe and sound with no bones broken.

The travellers were driving down Second Avenue in their Chalmers to catch the train which would take them to Ladysmith, Wis., where they plan to spend the summer, when a Paige car driven by Francisco Mantana of Eighth street collided with the Chalmers at A street and the depot. Brake bands on the Paige did not work, and the car went onward, hitting a Ford sedan which was standing at the station. It is claimed by on-lookers that if the Ford had not been there the Paige would have gone still further.

Mr. and Mrs. Kermott while shaken up were not hurt, though their Chalmers had the fender bent and the running board broken.

CHILDREN TO SEE "BOY IN FLANDERS"

The Colonial Theatre and the J. J. Atwood Company are to host tomorrow afternoon when they will entertain the school children of the city and surrounding communities with a presentation of Jackie Coogan in "A Boy of Flanders."

The film was shown here a short time ago and many teachers who saw it wanted their pupils to witness the production. Manager Fielding of the Colonial made an especial effort to procure a return of the film and finally, in co-operation with the J. J. Atwood Company, completed the details for the presentation of the production Wednesday afternoon.

School children may procure tickets at the J. J. Atwood Company store.

DRESSMAKING DEMONSTRATION

By way of demonstrating how easy it is to do your own sewing, the J. J. Atwood Company, with Mrs. Mark Bailey as the demonstrator, is holding an exhibition every day this week at 2 o'clock at which Mrs. Bailey completes a dress in one hour's time.

The dresses are made of voile, gingham and various summer materials. The dresses made are not necessarily for home wear only. They are attractive to street wear and are appropriate for many occasions.

A booklet on the method will be given those attending the demonstration and O. E. Atwood, of the Atwood Company, states that the making of the dresses by Mrs. Bailey should prove interesting to every woman.

CONFESSION OF GIRL BANDIT IS READ IN COURT

CHANGES PLEA

Lytle Creek Holdup Case Before County Court. Lawyers Engage in Many Word Battles.

After two days of skirmishing by attorneys on a technicality, the purported confession of pretty Mae Neeley, accused accomplice of Paul Neja and Claude Robbs in the Glen Ranch robbery, was introduced before a jury by the state in Superior Judge Benjamin F. Warner's court yesterday.

In the written confession the girl admitted to Los Angeles detectives that she drove an automobile in which Robbs and Neja went to the resort ranch to hold up A. V. Starks, a grocery proprietor, and named her companions as bandits. On the witness stand Saturday Miss Neeley declared that she had signed the confession because the detectives told her she would not be held if "she coughed up." The officers, however, testified that the girl's confession was made freely and without promise of immunity.

Objections Are Frequent

Because of the law governing the rights of defendants in a joint trial, the confession was admitted by Judge Warner on instructions to the jurors that it was to be accepted only in the case of Miss Neeley and was not to be considered as evidence against Robbs and Neja, whose attorney objected frequently as the confession was read to the jurors. On this issue of whether the confession would prejudice the jurors against Neja and Robbs beyond cure by the court's instruction, jointly on trial with the girl, the attorneys had wrangled since Friday, introducing numerous court decisions in support of their contentions.

As the state rested its case late in the day, Neja was called to testify for the defense. He admitted that he had gone to Glen Ranch with Robbs and Miss Neeley from Los Angeles on the night of the robbery. And what was more, Neja said, he was in the robbery, being in the grocery when the masked bandit entered.

Tells About Resort Visit

"I held up my hands, too," said Neja. He said that he, Miss Neeley and Robbs left the ranch after the holdup occurred, although they had planned to remain at the resort over the week-end.

The state contends that the masked bandit of which Neja spoke was Robbs.

Character witnesses were called to testify that Miss Neeley bore a good reputation in Los Angeles prior to being arrested as an accomplice to the holdup.

The case will reach the jury today. Attorneys S. W. Mc Nab and P. N. McCloskey are representing the accused trio, with Deputy District Attorneys A. S. Maloney and C. Thompson prosecuting.

BUSINESS MEN TO DINE AT SYCAMORE

Business men of Upland and business men of Ontario, together with their wives or mothers or sweethearts, will enjoy a banquet at The Sycamores, Thursday evening, June 12th.

A fine program has been arranged by a committee made up of members of each association, the main speaker of the evening being G. M. Wessels, a merchandising auditing expert, who is to speak on the theme, "Some Sales and Service Problems."

A musical program is to be given and Simpson's Orchestra will supply music for those who desire to dance following the dinner and program.

JURY EXONERATES DEATH CAR DRIVER

Exonerating the driver of the automobile which Friday morning struck and killed little nine-year-old Mary Elizabeth Rasor, daughter of C. M. Rasor of Los Angeles, the coroner's jury returned a verdict that death was the result of "a basal fracture of the skull and hemorrhage, caused by being struck by an automobile, accidental." The accident occurred near Cucamonga.

Adding to the sadness of the accident is the fact that the little girl was on her way to San Bernardino to place flowers on the grave of her mother.

Funeral services were held Monday at 9:30 a.m. from the Church of St. Bernardine de Sienna. Interment was in Mountain View Cemetery, San Bernardino, beside her mother.

The girl was a granddaughter of Mrs. Belle Harrington, 477 Fifth Street, San Bernardino, and once lived in Rialto.

Stops at Garage

The little girl, accompanied by her paternal grandmother, Mrs. Nathan Rasor; her aunt, Mrs. Edith R. Reed, and her uncle, E. A. Rasor of Los Angeles, was driving to San Bernardino. Near a garage on the state highway in the Cucamonga district, the car was stopped. Mrs. Reed and Mary had crossed the highway to the garage and were returning to the car when the little girl, suddenly freeing herself from her aunt's hand, ran directly into the path of a machine driven by William A. DeLong of 2574 Huntington Drive, Los Angeles.

The child was struck to the pavement with great force and both wheels of the DeLong touring car passed over her frail body.

The child was rushed to the San Antonio Hospital, but Dr. R. C. Nichols pronounced her dead when she arrived. She had suffered a basal fracture of the skull and had been injured internally. It is believed that a wheel of the heavy car passed over her head.

Father is Notified

When the party left for San Bernardino, the father had been absent on a trip to Death Valley, but it was learned that he had just returned to Los Angeles and he was reached by telephone.

OFFICERS RAID CHINESE QUARTER

In a raid yesterday on a Chinese settlement in the Cucamonga district, participated in by Ontario and Cucamonga officers and representatives of the sheriff's office, a quantity of supposed opium and several bottles of whiskey were confiscated and one man placed under arrest. Sin Toy, an aged Celestial was the man taken into custody. He was charged with having liquor in his possession and paid a fine of $150 after entering a plea of guilty in Judge W. C. Belden's court.

The alleged narcotics seized by the officers will be analyzed and it is probable that further charges will be preferred against the residents of the Chinese quarter.

Participating in the raid were Deputies F. J. Fisher, A. W. Steele, and N. C. Allen, of the Ontario narcotic squad; Constable J. A. Larson of Cucamonga; Special Officer J. D. Orendorff of Etiwanda, and Deputies Brown and Amarias of the sheriff's office.

Officer Fisher stated that the liquor and part of the opium were found in a dark room, the key to whose door the Chinese residents of the place asserted had been lost for three years. The door was broken in, however, and a large number of pipes and other paraphernalia found along with the liquor and narcotics. The officers declared that each Chinaman had a shotgun of ancient vintage by the side of his bed.

This would be a great world if the food-growing plants were as hardy as the weeds.

Many a supposed uplifter is really a down-grader.

The only thing sadder than a smile is a frowny grin.

It was not they mud, why not be a ditch digger?

CAJON VALLEY MURDER TRIAL STARTS TODAY

DENIES GUILT

Admits Camping in Cajon Pass But Denies Knowledge of the Death of Man Found Murdered.

Joseph Kretschner, a tall and broad-shouldered Austrian, taciturn and sullen, goes on trial today as the slayer of N. N. Lucasen, whose body was found in a shallow grave in Cajon Pass last August.

Behind Kretschner's arrest is a gripping story of detective work by Sheriff Walter A. Shay, who began at the grave and traced Kretschner through a score of states until his arrest in Salt Lake City early in February. The state's evidence in the case will furnish spectators with uninterrupted interest as witnesses are called to testify.

Admits He Camped at Spot

Kretschner, whose own words are claimed by the state to definitely link him with the actual slaying, denies his guilt, but admits that he camped with Lucasen, his traveling companion, in the Cajon Pass on the night that Lucasen was murdered. Kretschner tells a weird story of waking on the following morning on the outskirts of San Bernardino, 20 miles away, dazed and without memory of what transpired during the night.

From the finding of the grave in the mountains by motor tourists who were hunting a camping ground to the arrest of Kretschner with the resultant discoveries of incidents surrounding the crime will be told by the state as Deputy District Attorney Stanley Mussell unfolds his case.

Attorney Frank T. Bates, appointed by the court to defend the accused man, was in conference with Kretschner in the county jail for hours yesterday. Kretschner, an enigmatical man who appears little interested in the legal battle to send him to the gallows, is ready for trial, he said yesterday.

Practically all of today's session will be required to select a jury from the venire of 50 men called a week ago, it is expected. An argument on the technicality of venue is expected to develop as the defense banking its hopes on the inability of the prosecutor to prove that Lucasen was actually killed in this county, despite the fact that his body was found here.

The case may require a week or longer, to complete.

COOKING SCHOOL MEHL HARDWARE

Mehl Brothers, of the Mehl Hardware Company, have completed arrangements for a most interesting week at their place of business.

Co-operating with the Holbrook, Merrill & Stetson firm, manufacturers of the Pacific Gas Range, a cooking school is to be conducted at the store all next week with Mrs. Harriet Hall as instructor. Mrs. Hall was here last year and many men and women cooks attended the classes throughout the week and gained much valuable information.

To close the week a cake-baking contest has been arranged by the Mehl Hardware Company with the members of the Upland Woman's Club in charge of the event. Saturday, cake bakers will bring their cakes to the store and that evening the judges will decide who is the winner, and to the winner will be awarded a $90 Pacific white enameled gas range. The cakes entered in the contest are to be auctioned to the highest bidder and the entire proceeds will go to the Upland Woman's Club.

Judges of the cake baking contest will be teachers from the domestic science department of Chaffey Union High School and Mrs. Hall who is a graduate of the domestic science department of the University of Southern California.

CHARGED WITH RECKLESS DRIVING

Alleged to have done between 45 and 48 miles an hour through heavy traffic Sunday afternoon on Euclid Avenue between Sixteenth and Eighteenth Streets, Leonard J. Brill of 688 Shatto Place, Los Angeles, was today slated to appear Friday before Judge Geo. R. Crane to answer to a charge of reckless driving. Brill was arrested by City traffic officer Louis Krommeyer.

When arrested, the Los Angeles man gave the excuse that he was tired after an outing at Big Bear and was anxious to get home. He declared that his mind was preoccupied and that he had not realized that he was driving at an excessive rate of speed.

The Upland city treasury was enriched in the amount of $439 during the month of May through fines imposed in the recorder's court, according to the monthly report of Judge George R. Crane, which was filed today with City Clerk Ernest C. Mehl.

Thirty-six traffic law violators paid fines totaling $384, while three "drunks" contributed amounts totaling $55.

FEDERAL AID FOR COUNTY ROADS

That there is a strong possibility of the federal government extending aid for road work in San Bernardino county and especially on the highway running to Needles, was declared by Supervisor A. G. Kendall to have been one of the impressions he gained while attending the joint meeting of the National Good Roads Association and the Bankhead Good Roads Association at Albuquerque, N. M., last week.

Mr. Kendall returned Friday, after having spent almost a week at Albuquerque, he having been appointed by Governor Richardson one of four California representatives to the convention. Other counties in the state represented were Los Angeles, Santa Cruz and Humboldt.

"I am confident that federal aid will be given in improving the highway to Needles, a step that would be highly advantageous to San Bernardino and the county as a whole," said Mr. Kendall.

The convention was attended by representatives from twenty states, including the majority of the western and southern states. The delegates included county supervisors and commissioners, engineers and highway men from the various states.

These associations, Mr. Kendall stated, are doing much toward furthering highway projects from coast to coast, but are working especially for more roads through the sparsely settled country. It was with this end in view that a resolution was passed urging congress to pass the $75,000,000 appropriation bill for road construction. This calls for a proportionately large per cent of the funds to be spent in states where there is more government-owned land, and consequently less taxes paid. Nevada claims about 65 per cent of the government-owned land in the country, while California has a large amount.

Arrangements have been made by which members of the Upland Business and Professional Women's Club and their guests will have the exclusive use of the Chaffey plunge on Wednesday evening. The regular admission will be charged. Fifteen cents for those bringing their own bathing suits, and twenty-five cents for those who wish to use the suits provided by the Chaffey plunge.

RESERVE PLUNGE WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Where are we going to get out statesmen when there are no more log cabins to be born in? Many a captain of industry is a buck private when he gets home. A successful business man is one who knows all the "sure things" ran out before he was born.

BIDS RECEIVED ON BRIDGE AND MTN. ROAD WORK TO BIG BEAR

STATE TO ASSIST

Many Miles of County Roads and other Highway Improvements in the Making by State Highway Officials.

Bids for the construction of a bridge across the Big Bear Valley dam and two stretches of mountain highway, projects included in the Deep Creek cut-off program and involving the expenditure of approximately $125,000, have been received by District Engineer C. H. Sweetser of the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads.

The bid of C. L. Robinson of Sherman, of $102,477, is $11,000 below the engineer's estimate of the cost of the highway project. The low bid for the building of the bridge across the dam, a particularly difficult project to construct, is $31,013. The engineer's estimate on this structure was $28,663. Contracts, however, have not been awarded, but will probably be assigned during the week, as the bids were opened last Wednesday in the federal bureau offices in San Francisco.

Will Build Fredalba Road

The highway projects include the building of a road from Deerlick in the Fredalba district to the beginning of the Deep Creek cut-off, a mile east on the Crest Drive. This road will connect the road now under construction by the county at Fredalba from the junction with the City Creek Canyon route, now regarded as the most popular and most direct road into Big Bear Valley.

The engineer's estimate on this project was $41,505, and the following bids were received: C. L. Robinson, Sherman, $37,936; Williams & Singletary, Colton, 38,495; DeWard & Son, San Diego, 42,785; Arnett & Welch, San Francisco, 56,025.

The second road project is the one and one-half mile stretch from the dam in the valley to the western terminus of the Big Bear Valley Boulevard on the south side of the lake. The county is now paving the boulevard at a cost of $175,000. The engineer's estimate on this road was $71,862, and the following bids were received: C. L. Robinson, Sherman, $64,590; DeWard & Son, San Diego, 75,770; C. E. Crowley, Los Angeles, 76,287; Arnett & Welch, San Francisco, 113,257.

Robinson is Low Bidder. Bids were also asked on both roads as a single project, resulting in C. L. Robinson again being the low bidder. This bid was but $100 lower than the total of the two individual bids, or $102,477.

An agreement between the county and the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads, by which the federal bureau was to construct the road on the south side of the lake and the county to aid in financing the construction of the bridge across the dam, the county will pay $30,000 toward the cost of this structure. Engineer Sweetser has estimated the cost of the bridge at $28,663, but Acting County Surveyor J. P. Kemmerer figured the cost at $30,000 or greater. The bids were:

Frank Bryant, San Francisco, $31,013; DeWard & Son, San Diego, 32,966; McKay Engineering Company, Los Angeles, 34,309; William Ledbetter, Los Angeles, 37,370.

If the Bryant bid is accepted, the federal bureau will pay $11,000 on the contract. The bridge will be one of the most picturesque in California, crossing the dam 100 feet below the canyon on the west and at the water's level on the east. The dam will easily support the weight of the bridge and its traffic, engineers have unanimously decided.

Although the date for the construction of the three projects has not been definitely announced, in all probability work will begin late in the summer. The route, when the two stretches of road are completed, will be the most direct into Big Bear Valley, shortens the running time via automobile between San Bernardino and the resort district from one to two hours and penetrates virgin country.

The Deep Creek cut-off, an 11-mile road between a point on the Crest Drive east of Fredalba, tra-

ALFORD HOPES TO BE PAROLED FROM SAN QUENTIN

From within the walls of San Quentin, F. E. Alford, former city manager of Ontario, convicted last year of embezzling thousands of dollars from the city of Ontario, has appealed to District Attorney George H. Johnson and Deputy District Attorney M. O. Hert to aid him in his efforts to have his prison sentence reduced to a minimum when his case comes before the prison directors in July.

The attitude of District Attorney Johnson in urging leniency for Alford is unknown at this time but Deputy District Attorney Hert, who directed the prosecution against Alford, is emphatic in his announcement that Alford's plea for leniency will receive no encouragement from him.

Alford is serving from 2 to 20 years in prison and if the prison board follows the directions of the sentence two years will be the least the convicted former Ontario official will serve. He has now served nearly one year.

Hert Against Leniency
"Alford will receive no consideration in his fight for early freedom so far as I am concerned," Mr. Hert said. "He had the opportunity during the trial of John E. Huling, accused of being his accomplice in the Ontario embezzlement case, to either clear a friend of the charge against him by accepting the entire responsibility of the misuse of city funds or he could have aided the state in securing the conviction of Huling."

"Alford did neither. He was too great a moral coward to come here to testify in the Huling case. We may not have used him had he consented to come, but he feared to consent to come."

"While Alford stoutly denied the charges against him during his

LITTLE SHORTAGE OF JOBS SHOWN BY WELFARE FILES

Unemployment problem in San Bernardino County, which threatened to become critical during March and April, has practically disappeared, it was revealed by the monthly report of the County Welfare Commission, which was completed yesterday by Mrs. Maude S. Bell, secretary.

During the latter part of April and the first three weeks of May only three families were forced to seek county aid because of insufficient work. Fifteen positions were found by the department and only one bread winner refused work offered.

A total of 276 cases was handled by the department for which 344 visits, and interviews were necessary. Physical illnesses were the cause of most cases under county care. Of these, seven were caused by the smallpox epidemic, now passed. Seventeen persons were required to seek county aid because of advancing years.

FAMILIAR POEMS

THE AMERICAN FLAG

When Freedom from her mountain heights
Unfurled her standard to the air,
She tore the azure robe of night,
And set the stars of glory there;
She mingled with its gorgeous dyes
The milky halidric of the skies,
And striped its pure, celestial white
With streakings of the morning light;

Then from his mansion in the sun
She called her eagle-bearer down,
And gave into his mighty hand
The symbol of her chosen land.
Majestic monarch of the cloud!
Who rearest aloft thy regal form,
To hear the tempest-trumpings loud,
And see the lightning lances driven,
Whence drive the warriors of the storm,
And rolls the thunder-drum of heaven;

Child of the sun! to thee 'tis given
To guard the banner of the free,
To hover in the sulphur smoke,
To ward away the battle-stroke,
And bid its blendings shine afar,
Like rainbows on the cloud of war,
The harbingers of victory!

Flag of the brave! thy folds shall fly,
The sign of hope and triumph high,
When speaks the signal trumpet tone,
And the long line comes gleaming on;
Ere yet the life-blood, warm and wet,
Has dimmed the glistening bayonet,
Each soldier eye shall brightly turn
To where thy sky-born glories burn,

And, as his springing steps advance,
Catch war and vengeance from the glance;
And when the cannon-mouthings loud
Heave in wild wreaths the battle-shroud,
And gory sabres rise and fall,
Like shoots of flame on midnight's pall,
Then shall thy meteor-glances glow,
And cowering foes shall sink beneath

Each brilliant arm that strikes below
That lovely messenger of death,
Flag of the sea! on ocean wave
Thy stars shall glitter o'er the brave;
When death, careering on the gale,
Sweeps darkly round the belted sail,
And frightened waves rush wildly back,
Before the broadside's peeling rack,
Each dying wanderer of the sea
Shall look at once to heaven and thee,
And smile to see thy splendors fly
In triumph o'er his closing eye.

Flag of the free heart's hope and home,
By angel hands to valor given;
Thy stars have lit the welkin dome,
And all thy hues were born in heaven.
For ever float that standard sheet!
Where breathes the foe but falls before us,
With Freedom's soil beneath our feet,
And Freedom's banner streaming o'er us.

I LONG TO GO HOME

As I sit in the twilight of life and I want to go home! Oh, I want to go home.
As I think of the friends I have lost by the way,
I want to go back to my Mother.
The meadow, the orchard, the swinging grape vine,
Make me long to go home, how I long to go home!
The scenes of my childhood, the love that was mine,
Take me back to my home and my Mother.

My Mother still sits by the ivy-crowned door,
And I want to go home! How I want to go home.
She is here in my heart though I see her no more,
O, 'Tis! Take me back to my Mother!

MOLLY'S PARTY

There was a little maiden
Whose name was Molly Gray,
Who, said it is to tell you,
Had very fretful way.

Miss Molly had three dollies,
Right pretty they were, too,
And Molly loved them dearly,
As your mamma loves you.

One day she gave a party
To please her dollies three;
She put them 'round the table,
And served them with great glee.

When, much to Molly's sadness,
One dolly partly said:
"Oh, how I hate these biscuits!
I'd rather have some bread."

A second little dolly
Called out with peevish cry,
"You know I don't like cookies,
Why do you not have pie?"

And then another dolly
Said with unpleasant frown,
"Oh, I won't eat this supper!"
And fretfully looked down.

Poor Molly's heart was breaking
At manners so abase,
"How can you act so dollies?"
Said she with tearful face.

"Why," said the little dollies,
"We've noticed many a time
That's how you treat your mother
When you sit down to dine."

Ah! how ashamed was Molly!
How sorry for her ways!
She was a gentle girlie
In all the after days.

Conserving American Patriotism

VIRGINIA has long been known as the Mother of Presidents, but that is not alone the Old Dominion's claim to distinction. No women have a greater reverence for the high spots of American history—within their state—than those of Virginia, or are more willing to make sacrifices to preserve those spots from the hands of vandals. It was a Virginia woman who conceived the idea of forming an association to take over Mt. Vernon—which patriotic duty congress had ignored—and who canvassed the country, principally the south, for means to purchase the property, renovate the buildings, restore the grounds to their former beauty and otherwise preserve to all Americans that shrine on the Potomac where lived and died the first President of the United States. Imbued with similar loyal impulses, Virginia women banded together to maintain intact other historic landmarks in the state, with most gratifying results. Their latest attempt in this direction is the formation of the Kenmore Association, of Fredericksburg, whose object is to save from destruction the home of Colonel Fielding Lewis, whose wife was Betty Washington, sister of George, and whose mother, Mary Washington, in her will, as registered in the clerk's office at Fredericksburg, devised to her daughter "My phaeton and my bay horse" and to her two grandchildren Fielding and Lawrence Lewis, the one her negro man, Frederick, and to the other her negro wench, Lydia, together with various items of silverware, china, pewter and furniture. Fredericksburg is rich in historic associations, of all of which the Lewis home takes precedence. It was built in 1752 for Betty Washington, the bride, and the general's only sister. The stucco work was designed by George Washington and done by Hessian prisoners. It represented, at the time, the best of colonial architecture and eloquently reflected the culture and refinement of its distinguished occupants. Of late years, its existence has been threatened, hence this patriotic movement to save it. And why not? American history was made in the home of Colonel Lewis, who was the first to establish in this country a manufactory of small arms. The colonel died in 1781, after sacrificing his entire fortune in the cause of liberty. But for his generosity, his devotion to the cause, the battle of Yorktown might not have been won. Next to his own place, George Washington loved Kenmore, and the grounds owed much to his assiduous attentions. It is another national shrine for loyal Americans to visit after paying their respects to Mt. Vernon. And how little, comparatively, it takes to preserve this spot to the country! The cost is $30,000, of which $23,000 has been raised, leaving only $7,000 to give the association a clear title. California is interested in this effort.

The Stronger Sex?

ACCORDING to statistics long kept by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, three men commit suicide to every woman who indulges in self-destruction. What are we to infer from that. It might be easy to ask whether the majority of the men who kill themselves are married and build up some theory of the husband being nagged to death, to serve as a justification for confirmed bachelors, or an explanation of the existence of so many "old maids" on the idea that they are single because "Nobody asked me, sir, she said," the reason for not asking being a masculine fear of domestic infelicity. But our everyday observation leads us to discard that postulation as inaccurate.

We might also build up a theory that the cares of business and the responsibilities of family support are so much more wearing upon the male mind than upon the female, that he naturally "goes west" voluntarily three times as often as she does, but that also is likely to be a bachelor theory. One who has observed through a series of years the cares, anxieties, and distractions of the mother of a large family, and the wife of a fretful, thoughtless or indifferent husband, has grave doubts about the preponderance of suicide incitations on the male side of the house.

These two theories out of the way, we are left nothing else but a comparison of the mental qualities of the two sexes as they have relation to this matter of self-destruction. Any physician will tell you that the average woman bears pain and suffering better than the average man. Any minister will tell you that woman bears up under blows that threaten the family better than the average man. Any judge of a court of domestic relations will tell you that it is generally the wife who provides the new hope, the new courage, the new determination to "carry on" when financial and other disaster overtakes the family.

Outlook For Farmers

AMERICAN farmers this year are going to spend a bit more than in 1923. This is indicated by sales of the leading mail order houses, which so far this year have totaled about a seventh more than in the corresponding months of 1923.

Still, a gain of a seventh in buying power is mighty big to a farmer who has been operating at a loss or bare profit.

Economists consider mail order sales a barometer of farmers' buying power.

Farmers' spending this year is, of course, regulated a lot by their profits or losses in 1923.

Last year's crops, for the whole country, according to Department of Agriculture, were valued at 9953 million dollars, which was about 1000 millions more than the year before.

Says the department: "The distress of wheat growers is strikingly shown by the estimate of the value of the 1923 wheat crop which is 726 million dollars, compared with 874 millions in 1922 and 2080 millions in 1919."

That was equivalent to a city man having his wages reduced nearly two-thirds in two years. Ouch!

Farmers in 1923 got for their crops and meats about a fourth more money than in 1914. But prices and costs had about doubled. So, figured in terms of pre-war buying power, the farmer in 1923 was only three-fifths as prosperous as before the war.

This affects all of us, for prosperity cannot be on a sound and steady basis unless there is a just balance between city and farm buying power, since each is the customer of the other. An impoverished customer can't buy.

trial here, he has virtually admitted his guilt since conviction on several occasions, although he never made a public confession of the crime. He made his prosecution difficult—a fight of months.

"I will write Alford a reply to his letter and tell him just how I feel regarding his plea, but I certainly will not recommend leniency in fixing his sentence."

Huling Awaits Appeal

Huling, Alford's asserted accomplice in the embezzlement case, is in the county jail awaiting an appeal for a reversal of Judge Jesse Olney's decision in refusing to grant Huling a new trial following his conviction by a jury.

Following is the letter Alford has written to Mr. Hert:

"San Quentin, Calif., May 28, 1924.

"Mr. M. O. Hert,

"Deputy District Attorney,

"San Bernardino, Calif.

"My dear Mr. Hert,—I earnestly hope that you will accept and read the statements I set out in my appeal tonight to you in the spirit of sincerity in which I write them. Perhaps I should not write you as the district attorney who prosecuted my case and me being in the position that I am now in, but there is something within me, Mr. Hert, that makes me believe you will help me.

"I was conscientious and industrious and worked hard to give my mother, my wife and baby the advantages we all strive to give our families. I was never in trouble before. I had numerous opportunities during my long service with the city of Ontario to embezzle the city's funds, but I was always straight as a die until the evening Mrs. Miller, with her hosts, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Belden of North Hellman Avenue, and on Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Bishop entertained a few friends informally with a round of bridge at their home.

Mrs. W. C. Belden making winning score in the card play. Cooling refreshments were served in the late evening. On Sunday, Mrs. Miller was a luncheon guest of Mrs. A. K. Milliken of Haven Avenue, before returning that afternoon to her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Graham of Pasadena and Mrs. A. S. Guthrie of San Bernardino were dinner-guests on Memorial Day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Kincaid of Ninth Street.

I. T. Jamieson and family were guests on Sunday of Mrs. Green-slate and family in Riverside, enjoying a very pleasant day's visit and returning home in the cool of the evening.

Joseph Wangler, Sr., is reported critically ill at his home on Center Street, N. Cucamonga.

William Gwinn, familiarly known as "Dad," watchman at the Golden State cannery, is said to be very ill at his home on the cannery grounds, following a stroke of paralysis brought on after a severe fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Colonel Garrard, accompanied by Miss Eva Oakley, motored to Big Bear Lake last Thursday for an over-the-holiday visit at the mountain lake home of Mr. Garrard's sister, Mrs. Theodore Krysto and family.

Mrs. Sarah E. Shattall and daughter, Miss Jessie, visited last week at the home of the former's father, J. M. Gillam, in L. A. charge for which I was convicted was brought. My life exemplified the highest type of honesty during the 17 years I was a resident of Ontario and prior to my coming to Ontario my reputation was good. I always was highly respected and was regarded as honest, industrious and law-abiding. I have throughout the years had many money transactions and have always met my obligations promptly.

Cast Gloom Over Family

"This affair has cast the deepest gloom over my family. We have had severe financial losses and my savings of a lifetime have gone and I am getting up in years and am anxious to have a chance to make good and know that the best interests of society will be served by my release.

"My mother is in desperate need of my help and comfort and my wife and baby are greatly distressed and very much in need of my protection and earnings.

"Without minimizing any mistakes that I have made in the past, without explanations or excuses or condoning that which is past in any way, I can not help but feel that you will believe in me now. I accepted this sordid experience and punishment in the proper way. Since being committed here I have kept a perfect record for conduct, industry and self-improvement, and I am coming through it all bettered in every possible way—mentally and physically.

"I do not feel bitter or resentful in any way. In fact, the time that I have spent in here, though it seems years, has brought to me a closer understanding of God and a broader knowledge of human problems and the laws of society.

Would Make New Start

"I do not think society, or anyone else, desires to keep me behind prison bars when I possess the desire and determination to take up my life where it was broken and make my future all that it should be. I have a splendid position waiting for me, and it is a fervent hope of mine that I will be granted my freedom soon to become a respected citizen again. I can and will.

"The above is my plea, my appeal to you personally. I have mailed a letter to Mr. Johnson and I truly wish he will believe the sincerity of my letter. When I appear before the board it will help me a great deal toward the securing of my freedom. I know, if I could present letters from you and Mr. Johnson asking that I be given another opportunity. I do not ask you to pass on my guilt or innocence now in any sense of the word. I only hope that you will have faith in my desire to rehabilitate myself, and believe in my own determination and statement that I can. If you feel that you can write such a letter asking leniency, would you kindly address it to the State Board of Prison Directors at San Quentin and mail it to me personally, so that I may be in a position to present it personally when I appear before the board? In my heart I will always have gratitude for such an act of mercy and kindness.

Feels No Bitterness

"Regardless of whether or not you feel inclined to do this for me, Mr. Hert; regardless of how long it is decided that I must remain here behind bars, believe me when I say that there will never be any bitterness or resentfulness. I am master of myself in every way.

"It is a sincere hope of mine that I may be privileged to meet you on a different basis when I have proved worthy of the confidence and respect of my fellow-men again.

"May I hear from you soon?"

"Very respectfully yours,

"F. E. ALFORD."

had a 6:30 dinner, furnished by the ladies of the Eastern Star. Mrs. R. C. Norton was chairman and the menu was as follows: Chicken on hot biscuit, new potatoes, peas, salad, jelly, angel food with crushed raspberries, and coffee. The speaker of the evening was Rev. Bert Foster, and Major P. J. Potts also entertained the boys. The musical end of the program was taken care of by Fred Bryan and everybody knows how he can tickle the ivories. He was encored time and again.

ST. MARK'S GUILD MEET WITH MRS. ELLIOTT—

The pretty foothill home of Mrs. E. W. Elliott, on San Antonio Heights, was the scene on Monday of an all-day meeting, the last of the season, of members and friends of St. Mark's Guild. Twenty-two members and five visitors were present, the latter being the Rev. and Mrs. Penny of Claremont, Mrs. Perry, Mrs. D. D. Crew of Ontario, Miss Bertha Dickey of Pittsburg, Pa.

Mrs. Elliott, Mrs. Hunt and Mrs. J. H. Tracy were hostesses of the day, and a delicious luncheon was served in cafeteria fashion, the guests seeking comfortable seats both in the house and on the porches.

At the business meeting presided over by Mrs. Elliott, reports on the proceeds received from the Rummage Sale were given, and it was found that sufficient money had been made to purchase the silver and dishes for the rectory and also all tables and chairs necessary. These articles will be chosen this summer, and by the fall will be in use.

Dr. Bert Foster gave a most interesting account of the recent trip taken by himself and Mrs. Foster, when they first visited San Jose to be present at the ordination service, at which Egbert Clark, a member of St. Mark's parish, took Holy Orders, and later went to Sacramento to visit their son, and on to Grass Valley, where Dr. Foster was at one time rector of the Episcopal Church.

The next meeting of the Guild will be held the first Monday in October, when plans for the winter work will be formulated.

MRS. HARRY FIES TO ENTERTAIN FUR CLUB—

The Associated Fur Club will hold its regular meeting tomorrow (Wednesday) afternoon, from two until five o'clock, at the home of Mrs. Harry Fies, 1142 Washington Boulevard. All members are requested to attend, and everyone interested in seeing what lovely articles can be made from the rabbit fur is cordially invited to be present.

POMOLOGICAL CLUB GUESTS OF HAWKINSONS—

The meeting of the Claremont Pomological Club last Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Hawkins was a very interesting and pleasant affair. Members and guests to the number of eighty or more attended the all-day session. Besides the transaction of routime business, three very interesting speakers were heard: Mrs. R. C. Allen of Walnut, who told of her experiences last summer on a long motor trip over this country and Canada with her two "pals," her better half and the trusty Lincoln; Dr. Emerson, of the State Agricultural College, Cornell, N.Y., told of his recent trip to Chile, Bolivia and Peru on a government mission in search of selective strains of Indian corn; Dr. H. J. Webber, of our own State Agricultural College, who has appeared many times before the club and feels much at home with the members, gave an interesting survey of the citrus industry in our state and its future outlook.

A very delicious dinner was served at noon by Miss Lillian Graves, of the Chaffey High School faculty, and her assistants. Tables were spread in the porches, living rooms and dining room and "specially favored" guests were directed to the inviting "Hawk's Nest" in the old pepper tree. Miss Janet Stone sang very delightfully during the dinner hour.

As the great majority of the members are unable to entertain the club in their homes for lack of space, it was a very special treat to be able to meet in the spacious and comfortable home of the Hawkinsons.

MR. AND MRS. G. L. WINTER ENTERTAIN—

On Decoration Day, Mr. and Mrs. George L. Winter entertained the 27th Ward Club of Los Angeles. This club is made up of former Chicagoans who lived in this ward until a few years ago, the largest ward in the world.

The morning hours were devoted to visiting and the inspecting of the Winter home and ranch. At one o'clock the group of some 45 friends were taken down to the Hotpoint Clubhouse in Ontario, where a picnic dinner was served, followed by a short business meeting and a program. A number of vocal solos were given by various members and a brief talk by J. R. Richardson of Los Angeles, on the development of the Hotpoint company from its early beginnings. Until recently Mr. Richardson was connected with the Chicago branch of the company.

The president of this club, Miss Susan Alice Judd of Santa Monica, now in her 80th year, presided in her usual capable and interesting way. She was a well-loved teacher in the old Jefferson High School in Chicago for over 25 years, and it is the friendship and admiration for her and her interesting personality that holds this group of people together year after year. They meet at various times throughout the year in, or near, Los Angeles, but on Decoration Day they always come to the Winter home for their meeting and a taste of country life.

EDITH CAVELL MEMBERS ATTEND CONVENTION—

Mrs. Horace Little, regent of the Edith Cavell Chapter, D.E.E., and Mrs. Isaac C. Baxter, delegate, attended the National Convention of the Daughters of the British Empire, held in Los Angeles on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of last week.

The meetings were held in the assembly rooms of the new Friday Morning Club, and speakers on Thursday were Mrs. Coke Adams of Chicago, president at large, and Mrs. Audrey Allen of Pasadena, state council president, who gave most interesting addresses. Motor drives were taken through Glendale, Hollywood, Eagle Rock and Pasadena, where luncheon was served at the Hotel Arroyo del Vista. Each guest was presented with a souvenir pin from the hotel management, and the Pasadena Chamber of Commerce supplied the order with exquisite flowers throughout the convention.

Mrs. E. Pousette of Los Angeles, state president, spoke to the assembled members on Friday and the rest of the day was taken up with voting on the bylaws and amendments, and other business. Queen Alexander Chapter was hostess to the guests at luncheon.

On Saturday the Long Beach chapters complimented the order with a bridge and dancing party at the Hotel Virginia, bringing to a delightful close one of the pleasantest conventions of the organization.

The Daughters of the Empire now belong to the United States Federation of Womens Clubs, and are looking forward to increased usefulness through the alliance.

PRISCILLA CLUB ENTERTAINED—

Mrs. E. H. Hardt and Mrs. Harry Jenison were hostesses last Thursday to members of the Priscilla Club at the home of the former on Mountain Avenue, when an all-day meeting was held, and a delicious luncheon served at noon.

At the business meeting held in the afternoon it was decided to change the name from Priscilla Circle to Priscilla Club, by which name the organization will henceforth be known. Election of officers took place at this meeting and resulted in Mrs. Wilbur Rider being re-elected president, Mrs. Harry Jenison re-elected vice-president and Mrs. Earl Marsh chosen secretary and treasurer. Satisfactory reports of the year's work were given, and all business meetings will be discontinued until September. Towards the latter part of June a picnic will be held which will close the activities of the Club for the summer.

Among those present at the meeting on Thursday were Mrs. Rider, Mrs. L. R. Bradley, Mrs. W. F. Kitchel, Mrs. Leon Durham, Mrs. W. B. Cavers, Mrs. Thomas Howerton, Mrs. W. F. Naffel, Mrs. J. F. Robinson, Mrs. P. H. Vandenberg, Mrs. John Sanford, Mrs. William Rohrig, Mrs. Floyd Atwood, Mrs. Jay Rogers, Mrs. Marsh, Mrs. Clall Wilson of Ontario, Miss Anna Rohrig.

CHAFFEY SENIORS ARE COMPLEMENTED—

More than 200 members of the two upper classes of Chaffey High School assembled Thursday night in the cafeteria room of the Home Economics Building for the annual reception tendered the Seniors by the Juniors. The event is said to have eclipsed all former efforts in this line.

The great reception room had been transformed for the occasion into a veritable bower of beauty with many potted plants, myriads of choice flowers and softly-shaded lamps. Randall Phillips was at the head of the decorating committee which was responsible for the charming effect.

Receiving the guests of the evening were Richard Pierce, Junior Class President; Willard Dettweiler, Past Class President; Miss Jane Allen, Chairman of the Hospitality Committee, and Mrs. A. B. Durfee, Junior Class Advisor.

An elaborate and entertaining program had been arranged by the program committee, of which Miss Anna Mary Frank was chairman. Appearing as the "Floradora Sextette" in song and dance were the Misses Margaret Seapy, Vera Wells, Margaret Paxson, Islay Gimby and Ruth Brownless and Mrs. E. Blake Draper. The sextette was accompanied on the piano by Miss Winifred West.

Hatch Graham, widely-known radio artist, appeared in person and gave a group of delightful songs, accompanying himself on the banjo. "A Freckle-Faced Girl," a clever dialogue, was given by Miss Margaret Honstedt and Miss Lois Robinson. Miss Alice Chilison was heard in two delightful vocal solos, "Song of Songs" and "Lindy."

As a fitting climax to the excellent program and provoking much mirth was "The Inspidities of '24." This was participated in by five Junior boys, who appeared as girls in ballet costumes and executed clever dances and songs.

Delicious refreshments followed the program. Miss Alma Casler headed the refreshment committee.

MISSION INN WEDDING SCENE—

Simplicity marked the wedding Saturday morning at the Mission Inn, Riverside, of Albert Chadsey Reynolds of Ontario, and Miss Elizabeth Perkins of Los Angeles. The Rev. J. E. Fisher of Arlington, uncle of the bridegroom, was the officiant.

Only immediate relatives of the bride and bridegroom were present at the ceremony, which was followed by a wedding luncheon at the Inn. Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds left by motor for a honeymoon trip to the northern portion of the state. On their return they are to reside at 315 West E Street, Ontario.

The bride is a charming young woman of the blonde type and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter K. Perkins of Los Angeles. She has been a frequent visitor in Ontario and will be welcomed as an addition to the society set.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Ellen Reynolds of Ontario, where he has made his home for many years and where he is popular in a wide circle of friends. He is secretary of the Ontario Power Company and San Antonio Water Company, affiliated concerns. He is a prominent member of the Rotary Club, a member of Red Hill Country Club, and an active worker in the Ontario Chamber of Commerce.

WEDDING BELLS FOR CHAFFEY GRADUATE—

The attractive home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Stokes, 203 West D Street, Ontario, was the scene of a pretty June wedding Sunday afternoon, when their only daughter, Miss Rosamond Stokes, became the bride of Roy W. Gould of Colton. The Rev. W. Earle Smith, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Ontario, was the officiant.

Just before the ceremony Mrs. S. Earle Blakeslee, soprano, sang, "All For You," accompanied on the piano by Mr. Blakeslee and with violin obligato by Miss Elizabeth Wright. The bridal party entered to the strains of the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin, with Mr. Blakeslee at the piano.

The bride, attired in a fetching gown of white radium silk and wearing the conventional veil caught to the collar with orange blossoms, entered on the arm of her father, who gave her away. The bride's bouquet was a shower of bride's roses, lilies-of-the-valley and maidenhair fern.

W. R. C. TO MEET

Members of the Woman's Relief Corps will have an all-day meeting in the Oddfellows Hall in San Bernardino on Thursday, June 5th, and local members are asked to remember the date. The meeting will start promptly at ten o'clock, and luncheon will be served at noon.

WANT MORE FOR FLOOD CONTROL

Request from the Tri-Counties Re-forestation committee that San Bernardino County increase its annual appropriation for flood control and water conservation from $3,000 to $5,000 and also to provide $1,000 for fire patrol on the watersheds, was made to the Board of Supervisors yesterday.

George S. Hinckley of Redlands and William Starke, members of the Tri-Counties committee, presented the request. Riverside and Orange Counties have both been requested to make similar appropriations.

The decision to make the request was reached at a meeting recently at Riverside when water producers from all three counties met to discuss the necessity for greater conservation of water. The committee has started preliminary work on a plan for a huge conservation project that would prevent the annual run-off of water in the Santa Ana River and its tributaries.

Take Request Under Advisement

The supervisors yesterday took the request for the increased appropriation under advisement and will act on it at the time the budget is prepared.

In making application to the board for increase of the flood control appropriation and the money for employing two additional patrolmen, Mr. Starke pointed out the dangers caused by increasing fire hazards. These patrolmen, Mr. Starke stated, would be stationed at the mouth of Lytle Creek, Miller Canyon, Hook Canyon, Fish Canyon, at the mouth of Santa Ana Canyon and upper control in the Santa Ana Canyon. Two men would be furnished by each of the three counties.

"According to R. H. Charlton, forest supervisor of the Angeles Forest," Mr. Starke stated, "there were approximately 3,500,000 people who visited the 19 federal forests of California in 1923. Of this number 1,600,000 visited the Angeles Forest. Several years ago there were 86,000 people entering Bear Valley over one of the three roads leading into the valley, and during the same year only 30,000 people visited Yosemite National Park."

Fire did Damage to Watershed

Two years ago about 13,000 acres of the 18,000 acres in the City Creek watershed were burned over. The following winter the run-off from City Creek was 12 feet. The year before, which was a year of considerable more than twice the rainfall, there was a flood runoff of three feet, four times as much runoff after the area had been burned over with less than half the rainfall.

Ham Resigns As Surveyor

The resignation of E. T. Ham, county surveyor, was accepted by the board yesterday. Mr. Ham, who has been on a six-months' leave of absence from his office, tendered his resignation in person, stating that he regretted that he felt it necessary to give up his position. He is now employed by the Lake Arrowhead Co., in a much better position than that of county surveyor. Mr. Ham left the office Jan. 1, on a six-months' leave.

It is not expected that any appointment will be made to fill the vacancy, the office now being in charge of J. P. Kammerer, acting county surveyor.

Request of E. C. Jessurum to the board to relinquish 40 acres of a claim filed on by the county for the purpose of obtaining rock for road uses, was referred to the highway commissioner. Mr. Jessurum made the request, he said, because he desired the land for establishing a rock crusher on it of his own. The request was not viewed with any noticeable favor by the board.

LAST STAND

A member of the bar of Cincinnati tells of a youthful lawyer who had been retained to defend an old offender on the charge of burglary. The rules of the court allowed each side one hour in which to address the jury.

Just before his turn came, the young lawyer consulted a veteran of the bar who was in the courtroom. "How much time," he asked, "do you think I should take in addressing the jury?"

"You should," answered the old timer, without hesitation, "take the full hour."

"Why?"

"Because the longer you talk the longer you will keep your client out of jail."

BUSINESS SHOWS HEALTHY GROWTH

Improved business conditions generally are reported by John Perrin, chairman of the Twelfth Federal Reserve District and federal reserve agent for the Federal Reserve Bank at San Francisco, in a summary just issued. He says:

Productive activity in the district declined moderately during April, but the distribution of goods continued at the high levels of previous months. The total volume of business transacted, the resultant of these conflicting movements, was smaller during April than during March, and, if correction be made for normal annual growth, was slightly below the level of April, 1923.

It should be said, however, that the decline in the district figures for April, as was the case in March, was due solely to abnormal conditions prevailing in California. In the district outside of that state there has been a steady increase in business activity during the first four months of 1924.

Slight curtailment of lumber production, as compared with a year ago, was noted during the month. A movement forecasted during recent weeks by small increases in mill stocks and continued price weakness. Shipments of and orders for lumber continued in large volume. Mineral production appears to be stabilized at levels slightly below the peak of recent months.

The continuous decline in flow of petroleum from California wells which began in September, 1923, terminated, at least temporarily, during April when average daily production increased by a fraction of one per cent as compared with March. Stored stocks of petroleum had risen to another new record figure, 97,335,651 barrels, at the close of the month.

The number and value of building permits issued in twenty principal cities of the district during April declined from the seasonal peak of the previous month, and were in each case approximately 2 per cent below the figures reported for April, 1923. Restricted production programs have resulted in a moderate decrease in employment in the district as compared with a year ago.

Store Trade Grows
Comparison of April trade movements, particularly at retail, with those of a year ago, are rendered difficult by the difference in Easter dates of the two years and in some cases it has been necessary to consider the combined figures for March and April in order to ascertain the real trend.

Sales of 35 reporting department stores for the two months were 6.1 per cent larger in 1924 than in 1923, and while stocks held this year are slightly larger than those held a year ago, the rate of stock turnover has been practically the same.

Conflicting tendencies have persisted in the wholesale trade, a reflection of the cautious purchasing attitude of retail buyers and no definite buying trend is distinguishable. During April, five of the eleven lines of business reporting to this bank showed increases in the value of their sales as compared with one month ago and four of the eleven lines showed increases as compared with one year ago. The record of business failures for the district gives the following comparisons:

	April, 1924, compared with
Number	32.2
Liabilities	15.3
Prices Level	3.1
	5.9

Changes in prices of individual commodities have been numerous during recent weeks, but advances and declines have been in approximate balance, and the general level of prices for the principal products of the district has been comparatively stable. For the United States the level of wholesale prices, according to the index number of the bureau of labor statistics, stood at 148 in April, 1924, compared with 150 in March, 1924, and 159 in April, 1923.

Bank credit for business and industrial enterprises of the district has continued abundant. Member banks were able during April and early May to increase their total loans and investments while reducing their borrowings from the Federal Reserve Bank. Earning assets of the latter, which indicate the amount of Reserve bank credit in use in the district, have remained near the lowest levels of recent years. Interest rates, already low, tended downward during the month.

Quarantine Lifted
The outbreak of the foot and mouth disease of livestock in parts of the southern half of California, which threatened serious injury to the livestock and allied industries of that state is slowly being brought under control. Upon invitation of state authorities the Federal government has assumed complete charge of eradication work, and has standardized eradication and quarantine measures. Modification of intra-state quarantines has been permitted wherever it has been possible to do so without reducing the effectiveness of established methods for controlling the disease. It is anticipated that embargoes of other states against California products which authorities of the federal government certify as safe for shipment will soon be lifted.

SOME MISTAKE
The telephone in a well-known surgeon's office rang and the doctor answered. A voice inquired, "Who is this?"

The doctor readily recognized the voice of his seven-year-old son. Although an exceedingly busy man he was always ready for a bit of fun, so he replied:

"The smartest man in the world."

"I beg your pardon," said the boy, "I have the wrong number."

ONTARIO

First-Class Postoffice
Postmaster P. E. Berger received official notice Saturday from the postoffice department at Washington, D. C., that the Ontario postoffice will become a first-class office July 1. This is considered a sure indication of Ontario's rapid growth and progress.

Monthly reports from the postoffice here have continued to show steady increases in business and the month just closed was no exception. At the close of business Saturday evening, Postmaster Berger reported that receipts for the month of May totaled $4,008 as compared to $3,605.50 for the corresponding month of last year. This is a gain of $402.50 or 11 per cent.

During the past month the cancellation machine in the local office showed a total of 125,250 letters and cards passing through, as compared to 119,130 for May, 1923, a gain of 6,120.

Postmaster Berger stated yesterday evening that after July 1, when the local office becomes first-class, the money order window will be open from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. instead of from 8 a. m. till 6 p. m. as at present. All other windows will have the same hours as at present.

Mr. Berger today forwarded to the first assistant postmaster general for an additional man to collect mail from the street letter boxes and this is expected to improve the service greatly. At present the carriers handling collections from the outlying boxes come in at 4 p. m. and letters mailed after that hour do not go out until the following morning. An additional collector would work from 6 p. m. to 8 p. m., assuring a more prompt dispatch of mail than is now possible. This will affect some 36 collection boxes.

Thirty-seven permits issued during the month of May by City Building Inspector O. S. Roen represented an expenditure for new building in Ontario of $53,800. This brings the total for the first five months of the year to $351,043.00.

The total for the month just closed is somewhat less than that for the corresponding month of last year, May, 1923, having rolled up a total of $64,320. The total for the year thus far is considerably behind that of last year, the total to June 1, 1923 having been $453,115.

Of the 37 permits issued during the month just closed, 14 were for new dwellings. Most of the permits were small, the largest being that to the Iron-All Factories of California for the erection of a plant at California Street and Sultana Avenue at a cost of $17,500.

Permits issued Saturday by Inspector Roen included that to Arthur M. Hoffman for the erection by day labor of a 4-room dwelling at 645 Noctua street at a cost of $2,300.

Rotary Club
Athletic stunts were the feature of the regular luncheon meeting of the Ontario Rotary Club at the Hotel Casa Blanca here Thursday afternoon. Regardless of age, members of the club displayed their athletic liteness and turned hand-springs, stood on their heads and performed other capers. It was in reality "Play Day" for the Rotarians.

Roy D. Newton was chairman at the meeting. In keeping with the Memorial time of the year, patriotic songs, including "America, the Beautiful," "The Star Spangled Banner," and others were sung.

M. A. Gauer, director of physical education in the elementary schools of Ontario, was the Baby Rotarian of the day, being welcomed into the organization by Mayor Willard D. Ball.

Tom Drake, well known orator of Chaffey Union High School, delivered an address, the subject dealing with the prevention of future wars.

President Glenn D. Smith and Past President John S. Armstrong were enthusiastically named as official delegates to the Rotary International Convention at Toronto.

The birthday talk of the meeting was given by J. B. Draper, well-known undertaker of this city, who reviewed the events of his life since he was born in Canada, May 16, 1855, to the present time. He told of having been a tailor during the first years he spent in Ontario.

It was announced at the luncheon that Ladies' Night would be held at the Sycamore

SALE OF SEATS NOW ON FOR "LIGHTNIN"

A tremendous demand is indicated for the engagement of "Lightnin'" which is scheduled for the California Theatre, Pomona, for Friday night, June 6th. The sale of seats is now open at the box office. "Lightnin'" has been tentatively handed in this direction for a couple of years or more and the actual date being at last set is the cause of much rejoicing on the part of local theatergoers, who have had to hear about "Lightnin'" from their more fortunate friends who saw the play in the East. Lightnin' Bill Jones, the character from which the comedy gains its title—a most lovable old chap and bibulous fraud, with all the redeeming vices of Jefferson's Rip Van Winkle—is certain to appeal to the sympathies of local playgoers as no stage character has done in years. "Lightnin'" has already been performed by the cast that will be seen in Pomona for more than 2,000 times, and has been witnessed by over five million theatergoers, swaying them from laughter to tears and back again to laughter as no other play has done in years.

SHORT VAMP

Sir Hugh Maxwell-Grant, the London banker, said at a dinner at Narragansett:

"You Americans are very fond of attacking one another. A New York man told me on the voyage over that one day in the crowded lounge of his London hotel, he went up to a compatriot and said: 'You are a Chicagoan, aren't you?'"

"I sure am," said the Chicagoan, and he smiled and held out his hand. 'How did you spot me, brother?'"

"But the New Yorker ignored the question and the extended hand."

"Do you mind taking your feet off that chair?" he said. 'My wife would like to sit down.'"

SHIPS AND SHIPMENTS

Little Johnny was seeking information from his father.

"Father," he asked, "freight is goods that are sent by water or land, isn't it?"

"That's right, son."

"Well, then, why is it that the freight that goes by ship is called a cargo, and when it goes by car it is called a shipment?"

And then Johnny wondered why father put on his hat and sauntered outside to get the air.—Every-mores, Friday, June 6.

Guests at the meeting included S. R. Smith of Freeport, Long Island, New York, and Oscar A. Berman and O. J. Helvey of this city.

Sarah Ann Wilson

Mrs. Sarah Ann Wilson died Saturday night after a long illness at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Williamson, 329 North Campus avenue. She was 68 years of age. Mrs. Wilson's husband, George A. Wilson, died here February 10, last.

The funeral was held from the Williamson residence Monday afternoon at 2:30 with Dr. Charles F. Seitter, pastor of the First Methodist church, officiating. The Richardson funeral home was in charge of the arrangements. Interment was in Bellevue cemetery.

Mrs. Iona Bullard, wife of J. G. Bullard, died Sunday afternoon at their home in Alta Loma at the age of 27. Mrs. Bullard had resided here six months, coming from Georgia, her native state, for her health. Funeral services were held from Drapers chapel yesterday afternoon at 3, with burial in Bellevue cemetery.

Excitement reigned for a few minutes in the downtown business section at shortly before 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon when a fire alarm was turned in and great clouds of smoke were seen to be pouring from the top of the Walter Moore Grocery building, 207 North Euclid avenue.

It proved that a coffee roaster operated by W. E. Benton in the Moore building had caught fire and great clouds of smoke poured from a smoke stack leading to the roof. Many persons seeing the smoke thought the entire business section seriously threatened and a great crowd was attracted to the scene.

While the roaster was considerably damaged, there was little or no damage to the building.

An alarm was turned in at shortly before noon Saturday when burning trash at the home of Mrs. H. C. Pratt, 319 East H. Street, spread to some nearby out buildings and several garages were threatened. The Fire Department made a quick run and promptly checked the blaze.

The Automobile Dealers' Association is getting funds together to erect a statue commemorating the deeds of the following illustrious men: Franklin, Grant, Pierce, Cleveland, Hudson and Lincoln.

California Known as Better Home State

California, the Golden State (sometimes also known as the Booster State), promises now to win the further title of Better-Home state of the Union.

In other words, California leads the nation at present in its advance plans for a state-wide mobilization of its communities for home betterment. Indications are that more communities in California than in any other state from the Pacific to the Atlantic Coast will hold demonstrations under the auspices of Better Homes in America.

Sacramento predicts "the greatest demonstration of Better Homes not only in the history of Sacramento, but in the United States." Several houses typifying various kinds of homes, from a new bungalow to an old remodeled house, will be demonstrated in this city, under the leadership of Miss Geneva Watson, demonstration chairman, with a committee made up of the leading social, civic and commercial elements of the city. So far, prospects are that more demonstration homes will be shown in Sacramento than in any other city in the United States.

San Joaquin county as a whole has thrown itself into the better homes movement with zest. "We want to be listed as co-operating in this great movement to endear and raise the standard of the American home," the county goes on record, through its chairman, Mrs. D. Oliver Castle. All the leading cities and towns of San Joaquin will exhibit demonstration houses during Better Homes Week, a pageant has been planned for the occasion, and Better Music and essay contests are in progress.

A noteworthy demonstration is being planned in Palo Alto. "This is Secretary Hoover's home town, and we want to do it right," asserts Mrs. M. E. Shippey, the demonstration chairman for that city.

Santa Barbara, where Miss Pearl Chase is chairman, will vary the usual form of demonstration by working along the lines of a children's garden contest, and a community flower show.

Better Homes in America, under whose auspices the nation-wide campaign for home-betterment is being carried on, was recently incorporated as a national educational organization, with Herbert Hoover, Secretary of the Department of Commerce, as president and Dr. James Ford, on leave of absence from Harvard University, as executive director. President Coolidge is chairman of the advisory council of the organization, which includes many of the best known men and women of the United States.

"The American home is the foundation of our national and individual well-being. Its steady improvement is at the same time a test of our civilization and of our ideals. We need attractive, worthy, permanent homes that lighten the burden of house-keeping. We need homes in which home life can reach its finest levels, and in which can be reared happy children and upright citizens," President Coolidge declared, in commending participation in the coming home demonstration.

The Better Homes movement is now in the third year of its existence. It was initiated in 1922 by Mrs. William Brown Meloney and an advisory council, with Calvin Coolidge as honorary head and Herbert Hoover as chairman. Nearly 500 demonstrations were held during the first year. The movement had so developed by last year that the number of demonstrations was about double that in 1923. As it became increasingly evident that the Better Homes in America movement was a force of great importance in the education of the American people to higher standards of home life, it was decided to put it on a permanent basis by incorporating the organization as a national educational institution. It is believed that more and better demonstrations than ever before will be held under this new arrangement.

Protect life and property. A motorist with bad brakes is as dangerous as a gunman. Estimates show that there are about 13,000,000 cars in use today, and perhaps less than 50 per cent of these would stand a fair brake test under the rules laid down by the contest board of the American Automobile Association. This is the cause of so many accidents.

Delay Contract Award

While the bid of the Southwest Paving Company of Los Angeles was apparently the lowest submitted at last night's meeting of the city council, award of the contract for the construction of some three miles of paving on city streets was deferred until this evening, in order to give Street Superintendent O. S. Roen time for a careful analysis of the six bids received. The paving bid of the Southwest Company was for 15 cents a square foot. The proposed improvement calls for the construction of numerous culverts and curbs as well.

The streets to be paved include Vine Avenue between Dessau and Fourth Streets, together with portions of Laurel, Lemon and Sultana Avenues, Transit and B Streets. The cost of the paving is estimated at approximately $100,000. Others submitting bids for the work included the Hall-Johnson Company, the Griffith Company, George H. Oswald, the L. A. Paving Company and the Fleming Construction Company.

Owners Responsible

Property owners who permit weeds and rubbish to accumulate on their premises will be made to foot the bill in the event the city fire department is called to extinguish a resultant fire, if an ordinance discussed by members of the council last night becomes a law. Councilman Charles Latimer of the fire committee and City Service Manager Roen pointed out that at present the city is put to great expense through such carelessness and neglect on the part of property owners.

Fix Sidewalk Width

An ordinance fixing the width of sidewalks in the city was given final passage by the council. It requires that all walks on Euclid Avenue shall be not less than six feet in width, that all walks in that territory lying between California and Fourth Streets, San Antonio and Campus Avenues shall be not less than five feet wide, but that walks in the city outside this territory may be made as narrow as four feet in the event that a majority of the property owners on the street so petition the council.

The council formally accepted a new fire truck recently delivered by the American LaFrance Company. The truck cost $13,500. A new street light was ordered installed at the intersection of Vine Avenue and State Street. Action on the request of A. R. Lindley for permission to remove a street tree on Vine Avenue to permit moving a dwelling onto adjacent property was deferred for investigation.

C. E. Harper was granted a permit to park motor trucks on municipal property in the rear of the city jail at a rental of $24 a year, the permit being revocable.

10 New Dwellings

Assurance of the erection of ten substantial new dwellings in Ontario during the present month was action of the directors of the People's Building and Loan Association in authorizing loans in the amount of $15,800. The action was taken at the regular monthly meeting of the directors at the association offices, 235 North Euclid Avenue.

The loans range in amount from $1,000 to $3,500, and the total is said to represent about two-thirds of the amount which will be actually put into building by persons securing them.

The monthly financial statement of Secretary J. O. Henderson showed that dues received during May amounted to $16,911.97, that receipts on mortgage interest amounted to $7,514.90, and that receipts from paid stock totaled $18,750. Receipts from real estate sold during the month amounted to $3,421. The report showed a balance on hand June 1 of $13,596.94.

recess the south side of the crest and enters Big Bear Valley at the dam. When the road on the south side of the lake is completed, a scenic route around the Big Bear Valley lake will be opened to traffic—another of Southern California's picturesque routes for the motorist.

In all, the Deep Creek project, with the two units now under consideration, will have cost more than $400,000—one of the largest state, county and federal road appropriations in the county's history.

SILVER MEDAL CONTEST HELD SUNDAY NIGHT

Thirteen Upland boys and girls entered the contest for the Silver medal given by the W. C. T. U. which was held in the Cucamonga Methodist church last Sunday night, and the contest was won by Thorval Hartzog on the boys' side and by Ruth Kent for the girls.

All the addresses were so good that the Judges found it difficult to decide on the winner, and in his talk the Rev. McKinley Walker spoke of the splendid way in which each contestant presented his or her subject. A solo by Brooks Kitchel was listened to with great pleasure. Mrs. F. B. Harn, superintendent of the children to Cucamonga, and was delighted with the excellent way the speeches were delivered.

FRUIT IMPROVED DURING WEEK

According to reports made to Horticultural Commissioner J. P. Coy by his deputies yesterday, the apricot crop of the county is 70 per cent normal, with peaches running around 20 and 25 per cent normal.

The week of cool weather has helped the peach crop considerably, giving the late leaves a chance to protect the young crop from burn.

Citrus Crop Normal
The citrus crop is normal in most parts of the county, according to the reports, and in others there is an 80 per cent crop.

Grapes, the bulk of which are grown in the west end of the county within a few miles of Ontario, approach 100 per cent normal. They were reported as from 90 to 95 per cent of the normal crop by the inspectors.

Fumigation Winning
Apples, grown in the Chino district, were reported to be 55 per cent normal. In walnut groves a 90 per cent crop was found. Crop conditions in general were not quite as good as last year at this time, the reports indicated.

The battle against scale pests in citrus groves has been a winning one, the deputies declared.

INJURED GIRL IS RECOVERING

Miss Elmira Squires, 304 North Boyle Avenue, Los Angeles, who was reported fatally injured Sunday following a motor crash on the Foothill boulevard in the Cucamonga section between cars driven by E. Squires, 2263 Sixth street, Long Beach, and R. C. Kinsman of Arcadia, was yesterday afternoon reported recuperating at the Loma Linda Sanatorium.

Following the crash, two ambulances were summoned hurriedly from Ontario, but when they reached the scene it was to learn that the accident victims had been removed by motor car and that Miss Squires, supposedly dying, had been taken to San Bernardino. No trace of the woman could be found at the county seat, however, and it was not until last evening that she was located at Loma Linda.

According to Kinsman, who was driving west, the Squires car, moving east, was weaving all over the highway and efforts of the Arcadian to avoid collision proved fruitless. After the impact the Long Beach car turned over with Miss Squires beneath.

A dog and a cat on the left running board of the Kinsman car were killed in the crash. Two women occupants of the Arcadia machine were severely shocked, but otherwise not hurt. Other occupants of the Squires car received lesser hurts.

THE DRAWBACKS OF RELIGION

"Ah want to divorce mah husband," she said.

"What's the trouble?" asked the lawyer.

"That nigger's done gone and got religion, and we ain't seen a chicken on the table for two weeks."—Progressive Grocer.

SHOPPLIFTER IS CAPTURED

Arrested yesterday afternoon on a charge of shoplifting, after they were alleged to have purloined three silk dresses from the Fallis department store, 123 North Euclid avenue, Ontario, Mrs. F. Kay and Mrs. Vera Goldstein, giving their address as 608 East Sixth street, Los Angeles, were last night taken to the county jail in lieu of $300 bail each, following their appearance before Judge George R. Holbrook.

Each of the women entered a plea of not guilty and their trials were set for June 11.

The two women were arrested by Officer Leon Mengle, who trailed them for several blocks about the city after attaches of the Fallis store reported missing several gowns after the pair departed. Mengle took the two women into custody on East D Street, Ontario, just after they had entered a motor car which is said to have pulled up to the curb for them. The missing gowns were found stuffed under the rear seat of the car. The man driving the machine was not arrested.

Both women denied knowledge of how the stolen gowns came to be under the seat of the motor car and claimed that they did not know the driver, who disappeared following their arrest.

TOM DRAKE WINS RICHARDSON CONTEST

Out of a class of twenty entrants in the Richardson Patriotic Oratorical Contest this year, five young men were chosen for the finals that took place Monday morning at ten o'clock in the High School Auditorium: Ralph Arnold, Boris Umar, and Thomas Drake.

The three judges, Rev. J. B. Toomey, Dr. Bert Foster and R. G. Manley, awarded the highest honor to Thomas Drake of Ontario, whose subject was "A Successful Life." The speaker used the life and success of Edward Bok to illustrate his subject: a man of no unusual talents, but he had made the most of his opportunities and by hard work and perseverance had attained a success. Mr. Drake urged his hearers to follow this example and be successful also.

The other speakers were all deserving of high praise as their themes were well thought out and presented in a most pleasing manner, reflecting a great deal of credit on their instructor, Miss Lois Avery, head of the literature department in our High School.

Preceding the contest the Boys' Glee Club rendered very beautifully the selection "Invictus" and Mr. S. Earle Blackstone played an interesting selection on the pipe organ while the judges were coming to their conclusions. Representatives of the G.A.R. and W.R.C. attended as special guests of the occasion.

I've often wondered how much horror the movie censors really feel over the pictures they order cut out.

MAY FIGURE IN TRIPLE ROYAL WEDDING OF CROWN PRINCES

H. R. H., Prince Leopold, Duke of Brabant and heir to the throne of Belgium, and his only sister, Princess Marie Jose. It has recently become known that this royal brother and sister may figure in a unique triple royal wedding in Rome early next spring, although none of the betrothals have been formally announced yet. Crown Prince Umberto is said to be firmly resolved on making the beautiful Marie Jose, his bride, while Princess Giovanna, who will be 17 next November, is considered as probable choice for the Duke of Brabant. Bucharest's official press appears to take it for granted that a match of Prince Nicolas, younger son of the Rumanian King and Queen, and the superlatively beautiful Princess Mafalda, of Italy, will be formally announced in the very near future.
